heywhatslukeupto It's no coincidence I grew up to sell houses. My mom always made our house feel like home, and I love helping people do the same. Happy Mother's Day to EVERYONE who makes houses feel like homes!

amandafoxcopywriter Found my new favorite publication! This edition features beautiful libraries around the world. Don't mind me as I dream about reading original copies by Decartes, Balzac, and Hugo at La Sorbonne 🇫🇷 🥖 📚.

amandafoxcopywriter Like @dollyparton says, "The way I see it, if you want the rainbow, you gotta put up with the rain."

Roy Williams (the cat) makes it look easy.

The more you know...

Whitespace is the area between elements on a website. The best part is that it doesn't have to be WHITE!

Although plug ins, words, and photos are necessary to communicate your brand, too many can clutter your space.

Statistics show that consumers react more positively to a clean, cut, and concise site, even if the whitespace is green!
